Virtual Caregivers Support Groups

To mitigate the spread of Coronavirus COVID-19, HopeHealth is temporarily pausing our in-person caregiver support groups. We are currently offering virtual dementia-specific and general caregiver support groups, open to the public. Led by trained counselors, these group will come together telephonically and/or through a computer device via Zoom once a week.

Whether you're caring for your loved one at home or facing the difficulty of being unable to see them where they reside, we are here for you. Emotional support, education and resources will be shared.
